Our basketball team came through a successful 1947-48 season by winning eleven games out of twenty-one. The season was high-lighted by many closely fought games, evidenced by the fact that twice our team lost by only two points and once by three points. Not only was the team successful in winning a majority of the games played, but under the leadership of Coach Witham, a group of players who had had very little experience at the beginning of the season was developed into a poised, well-trained team. Through all the games a fine Christian testimony was maintained. Our team played hard, it played well, but most important of all it played clean and fair.

“The Harvest Truly is Plenteous . . . .”

Denver and the outlying regions afford to the students of Denver Bible College many opportunities for practical Christian work. From the local churches there is a constant demand for pastors, Sunday School superintendents and teachers, youth leaders, choir directors and musicians. From the neglected mountain communities there is the call for workers who are willing to travel many miles each week in order to conduct Sunday Schools and church services in these out-of-the-way places. At the jails, hospitals, convalescent homes, and rescue missions there are open doors for gospel teams and personal workers. In these and many other ways the students at our college are serving the Lord while, at the same time, are preparing for greater service.

Acknowledgments

To all who have given of their time and their talents in the preparation of this, the first issue of "The Scroll," we wish to express our thanks.

We are indebted to the members of the camera club for the many fine photographs, in particular to Helen Spyker for the group pictures and many of the snapshots, to Clifford Morton for some of the Senior pictures, and to Robert Joyner, Gordon Mumford, and the others who contributed photographs. Thanks to Wilbur Wieland for his contribution to the basketball page and to our faculty adviser, Mrs. Englund, for her cooperation and advice.
